Meet Dr. Hanan Bazzi

HWC Bryan Hospital is excited to welcome Dr. Hanan Bazzi, OB/GYN, and her family to northwest Ohio.

An ambitious doctor just out of residency at University of Michigan, Hanan will be heading up the brand-new Women's Health Clinic at Bryan Hospital. There, she will offer the spectrum of OB/GYN care to women of all ages.

Outgoing, intelligent, articulate and kind, Hanan knew from an early age she was meant to care for others. "Growing up, I always wanted to be a physician; as a child, I loved math and science, and I always wanted to help people.

"I have always had a passion for women's health," she continues, "I really fell in love with OB/GYN because I formed good relationships with my patients. You see them on a regular basis, and get to take care of them throughout many stages of their lives."

WELL-GROUNDED IN FAMILY

Born in Houston, Texas, and raised in Charlotte, North Carolina, Hanan is a graduate of academically renowned David W. Butler High School. She then made the University of Michigan her home, where she spent her undergraduate, medical school and residency years. Closely knit with her family, Hanan's parents and three younger siblings made the move from North Carolina to Michigan, too.

A new family in town rarely goes unnoticed, and Wedad Bazzi — Hanan's now-mother-in-law — reached out to welcome the family. Instantly impressed with Hanan, Wedad was certain she had found her son, Danny's, "other half." Wedad called her son, who was on vacation in Lebanon, and was so persistent that Danny cut his vacation short to return to Michigan so he could meet the young woman his mother was so captivated by.

"Apparently, I came off really well with the in-laws," Hanan laughs. "I guess it was just meant to be. We were engaged within a few months, and married less than a year later."

STARTING A NEW CHAPTER

Relocating to Bryan is an exciting move for Danny and Hanan and their four kids — three of whom will be attending Bryan City Schools in the fall. During a visit this spring, the Bazzis closed on their home in Bryan, got to know CHWC a little better and met with teachers and school personnel to prepare their kids for the changes to come.

The Bazzis are active and outdoorsy, and spend much of their time together as a family. "I really encourage exercise. We focus on healthy habits and outdoor activities: riding bikes, walking, jogging, having a picnic outdoors," Hanan says, adding, "We are outside whenever we can be, whenever the weather permits!"
